

Our Butterfly

Help us Build a Kaleidoscope

For youth leaving government care, the journey to adulthood is a time of great change and transformation. Like the butterfly that undergoes an amazing metamorphosis, young people are emerging into a new phase of life.

Did you know, a group of butterflies is referred to as a kaleidoscope because it creates a beautiful display of ever-shifting colours and perspectives? Our hope is that whenever a youth from care sees a butterfly on a resource, post, or website, they will recognize the support it symbolizes. Let's surround youth leaving government care with butterflies and honor their journeys of transformation!
